6. [] Received a call from Jack Leahy, Congressional Relations staff, Department of State. Leahy was interested in the status of negotiations with Senate Internal Security Subcommittee on the John Paton Davies testimony. I brought Leahy up-to-date and mentioned that Mr. Maury would be seeing Senator Eastland on this subject and indicated that we would be back in touch with him to let him know the results of that meeting. Leahy said they had considered contacting the Subcommittee on this subject, but would probably hold off at least until after the Maury/Eastland meeting in view of our strong opposition to publication of the testimony which, of course, they agree with completely. Leahy asked if we had alerted the White House on this and I told him we had not, but would probably brief John Lehman or someone else on the White House staff after Mr. Maury's meeting with the Senator.
